Notwithstanding yesterday was Decoration day and the baths closed, a good and strong market was had. Receipts were hardly so heavy as the same day last week, and 3,000 lighter than the same day last year; but at Chicago the run was heavy for Tuesday, and at the five leading Western markets the receipts were 18,700, against 16,800 the same day last week, at the five leading Western markets the receipts were 18,700, against 16,800 the same day last week. Eastern order men and home killers both buying, and some of the best counfed steers showed a little mare strength, but the general sales were steady 1 with Monday's, and the yards fairly cleared by noon. Cows and helfers were firm and in good demand. A few choice helters sold up 5c and reached the best prices of the season. Stockers and feeders were in only moderate supply, but the high prices checked sales. A few toppy ones showed life, but common and medium were quiet. Range cattle, as well as natives, met with a good market; that is, in the native division. Some of the best of the season were in, and they brought good strong prices. In the Texas division there were not enough in to make a market. Milch cows were quiet, but steady. Common, $18.006(27.50; medium to fair, $30.006(25.00; good to choice, $40.009(20.00).

A fair run was had yesterday, though the receipts were nothing what they were the same day last week. Chicago, however, had the avereipts and a lower market, and at the five leading Western markets there were 16.10%, against 5.400 the same day last week and 44.600 anne day last year. With declines east of us, buyers took hold in a hestitating kind of way, and sains generally were a little lower, though a few earts hops showed firmness. Packers, however, were very good buyers in a quiet kind of way, and a few orders were in, and most hogs were sold by the close. Extreme range, 4.506.21.7%; bulk of sales, 4.554.98.27%.

OF INTEREST TO STOCKMEN. A Shortage of Cattle in Mexico and Other Items.

Captain John T. Lytle has been to Mexico and on his return reports his observation of the cattle situation there to the San Antonio, Tex., Express in these words: "There are portions of the country I have been over that are still suffering severely from drouth. The Santa Rosa valley and the contiguous country is still very dry; while there have been some rains in dry; while there have been some rains in that section to make stock water, it has been dry so long that it will take a good deal of rain to fill up the ground and start vegetation. Up in the Sierra del Carmen, where our ranch is located and in the country adjacent to the Rio Grande from Del Rio northwest, there have been fine rains and the range is in splendid shape.

"I found the price on Mexican cattle even higher than it is on this side, and a very decided shortage exists in Northwest Mexico on all classes of cattle."

"What do you think of the outlook in Southwest Texas, captain?"

"It seems to me that it is very satisfactory. Range conditions are generally good, while there is a scarcity of aged steer cattle, there are plenty of stock cattle in the country, so that this section will get the benefit of the prevalling favorable conditions. This is evidenced by the fact that it is almost impossible to rent a pasture anywhere in this section, indicating that there has been considerable growth and development in the ranching business and that the land is being generally employed. "Market cozditions and prices are certainly very satisfactory, and I see nothing ahead that does not indicate prosperous times for the cattle business."

It is reported from Denver that Armour that section to make stock water, it has

It is reported from Denver that Armour and Swift are already contracting for lambs for next winter, and it is causing some uncasiness among the Northern and Colorado feeders. There is no use getting excited. The big four will not try to corner the market—it is too big a job—and there are indications, especially in the South, that lambs will be of as good quality next fall as last. Buyers are talking $1.50 as the low price now, but as yet there are no reported sales at that or at any other price. It will be at least two months yet before the market is established, and even then the condition of the next corn crop is going to have much to do with quotations. It is reported from Denver that Armour of the day. Eastman got them for the export trade.

The same firm sold for P. Smith, of Wellsville, Kas., forty plain but fat native steers of his own feeding that averaged 1,422 pounds, at $5.15.

B. H. Nuckles, who is just back from a trip to Phillips county, Kas., says the country is looking lovely in that section. Pastures fine, corn up and stand good. Cattle supply short, compared with last year, but hogs plenty. Alfalfa is being generally cultivated and the crop promises large.

recently the most influential of the wheat professionals have been skeptical as to the winter wheat damage claims. They admitted there had been serious losses and that the winter had left the fields with a poor appearance, but their expectation was that April and May would make a marked change in this appearance. Their belief was that there would be a normal winter wheat yield, nothing like the extraordinary one of last year, but a yield of 300,000,000 bushels or more, and that this would be sufficient to supply the prospective lessened foreign demand. This view of this class underwent a change early last week, because its information was that the hope of recuperation had disappeared. The showers of April and the mild days of May had not accomplished what they had been expected to. There had been deterioration everywhere losteed of improvement. The poor states had grown worse: the promising ones, Ohio, California and Indiana, had not held their position. The change in the attitude of this conservative class, especially as it was brought about on the advice of the experts who had been slowest to admit the zensational character of the damage, naturally made an impression on the whole market.

Crops in Jasper County, Mo.

WEBB CITY. MO., May 20.—Mif Webb, a farmer who lives southwest of this city, reports that a large acrease of the wheat sown in Jasper county will not head out this year, and that what will head will not exceed half a crop if it even reaches that. He says that with favorable conditions in the future the crop of corn will be a fair one, but that if present conditions continue much longer the yield will be very light. These views are concurred in by farmers northeast of this city. The farmers are not at all pleased with the outlook for this year's crops.
